1. READING

Harry Bolton didn't really like sport at all until he discovered something both new and unusual. "I was listening to the radio one day when I heard something that I thought must have been a joke. The DJ was talking about underwater hockey! When I realized it actually was a sport, I decided to find out more about it. To my surprise, I found a local team and before I knew it, I was part of it!"

Unlike water polo, where the action takes place above the water, underwater hockey is played at the bottom of the pool. Players wear masks, flippers and snorkels during the game. "The rulers are simple, you just have to slide the puck into the opposing team's goal," says Harry.

Underwater hockey was invented by a British diving club in 1954. Harry told us, "Unfortunately it's not much of a spectator sport, as all people watching from outside the pool can see are lots of splashing and flippers!"

The National Sport of England

Football is the most popular sport in England. In fact, a lot of English people say it is their national sport.

English people have played football for a very long time. However, the game didn't have any real rules until the 19th century. In 1815, Eton College created rules to make the game less violent and later, in 1848, Cambridge university made many of the modern rules. Football quickly became as popular as other games such as cricket.

Today, there are thousands of football clubs in England, and professional clubs, such as Arsenal, Liverpool and Manchester United are famous all over the world.

Football has become part of the cultural life in England and hundreds of thousands of fans support their favourite teams in stadiums around the country every weekend.
